

ABOUT

My name is FFLORENCIA. I consider myself a multidisciplinary creative who explores her narrative through multiple platforms. Fashion, design, art director and photographer

What I love about photography is the possibility of communicating the sensitivity that beauty holds through my own eyes. The language of natural rusticity marks the tempo in my record, and I try to sustain it, even where it is not explicitly found.

Organic silhouettes invite me to think about the conceptuality of the form. The shapes tell me how it is distributed and in what context it is in. Context becomes meaning. And the meaning is translated into a footprint.
